ANNUAL GIVING CAMPAIGN KICKS OFF WITH $50,000 MATCHING GIFT CHALLENGE

Patt and Tom Schneider, Cyndy Nayer, Sheila and Doug Johnson

From the CEO Scott Burgess

In June, we ended our 2014 - 2015 fiscal year and once again saw dramatic growth in caring for those in our community. Many of our programs saw double digit increases in individuals served, we added new services and enhanced collaborations with important partners to better serve those in need.

But, our work is not done. Aligned with continued projected growth, this fiscal year we are poised to increase our impact on more individuals than any other time in our history and we have exciting plans to continue to add more evidence-based practices.

"I am extremely enthusiastic about the community's support to help us achieve our bold vision to meet the needs of our community for years to come."

— SCOTT BURGESS, CEO

To meet current and future demands DLC and our champions will need to work together in order to succeed in this vital mission. We realize these are community issues we can't solve alone.

At our recent Season Kick Off reception hosted at Stonegate Bank by board member Pablo Veintimilla, it was announced that a donor has kick started this fundraising season with an annual fund challenge gift of $50,000! They have challenged the community to join them in their commitment to our exciting vision whereby they will match $1 for every $2 raised by December 31, 2015.

As the leading mental health organization in the region, we know that expanding mental health and substance abuse services is critical in addressing one of the most pressing issues our community faces.

We hope this extremely generous gift will inspire you to step forward to help DLC reach our annual fund goal of $1,016,000.

PROGRAM NEWS

Evidenced Based Dialectical Behavior Therapy Now Available

David Lawrence Center recently launched the new Dialectical Behavior Therapy (DBT) program targeted to both the adolescent and adult populations. DBT blends proven Western Cognitive therapy and Eastern meditative approaches to help people achieve emotional stability, decrease stress and live in acceptance and mindfulness. The goal is to help people have a meaningful life by teaching skills to deal with issues that cause distress and avoid self-defeating behaviors.

DBT can help adolescents and adults with drastic mood changes, chaotic interpersonal relationships, poor impulse control, self-injurious behaviors, suicidal thoughts or attempts, and high risk behaviors that interfere with daily life. DBT is a 12-month treatment commitment that teaches participants to move closer to life goals and includes weekly individual therapy sessions and skills training group as well as life coaching calls. The treatment includes education on interpersonal effectiveness, mindfulness, emotion regulation and distress tolerance.

Funding for the clinical training program was provided by the Naples Children & Education Foundation.

SUCCESS STORY

Steven is quick witted, kind and gentle. A far cry from the person he describes as abused, who suffered hallucinations, isolation and suicidal thoughts.

Every memory Steven has of his mother and his childhood is traumatic. She abused alcohol and prescription drugs and was "very intense and psychotic."

"DLC helped me find my personal strengths and gave me the skills and support I needed to take care of myself."

— STEVEN

As a teenager, Steven began hearing voices which he couldn't shut off. "They prevented me from ever feeling happiness," he says. Without medication and an official diagnosis, he struggled on his own and needed his mother's financial support so her mental and physical abuse continued.

When Steven came to DLC five years ago he felt like he was losing his mind. He was in desperate need of help, and he found it.

A DLC psychiatrist diagnosed him with schizophrenia with bouts of depression and anxiety. His medication "calmed the storm in his brain" and he learned to quiet the voices in his head. Slowly but surely he began building his self-esteem and confidence.

Steven, now in his 30's, knows how well he is doing. "My past is no longer the ruler of my direction."

COLLABORATIONS AT WORK

Collier County Sheriff's Office Partnership Favors Treatment, Diverts From Jail

Collier County Sheriff's Office (CCSO) and the David Lawrence Center have collaborated on the public safety, health and wellness of this community since the Center's inception over 45 years ago. Under the leadership of Sheriff Kevin Rambosk, this partnership has evolved and our ability to work together to help those in need has never been stronger.

The premise behind this strengthened collaboration is a core understanding of what works and what doesn't. We know that jails and prisons are ill equipped to meet the needs of offenders with mental illness and substance abuse problems and criminalizing this population does not result in adequate care. Our initiatives prevent legal involvement where appropriate by providing access to treatment as an alternative to incarceration as well as wraparound care upon release to avoid recidivism and rearrests.

One initiative is Crisis Intervention Training which arms law enforcement officers with the skills and knowledge to handle violent and aggressive calls related to mental illness and substance abuse. Since 2007, DLC has provided 850 officers specialized training about signs and symptoms, the Baker Act and Marchman Act Laws and community resources.

Recently we started the Law Enforcement Assistant Diversion program which allows officers to redirect low-level drug offenders to treatment services, instead of jail and prosecution. This program was tested to the limits when CCSO announced one of the largest drug trafficking busts in local history that is "significantly impacting the flow of heroin and methamphetamine to the residents of Collier County." Through this initiative, deputies worked with emergency medical services and David Lawrence Center to make sure those addicted to heroin who were without access to their drugs and sick from withdrawals could get the rehabilitation help they needed.

By working together, these life-saving initiatives are changing lives and reducing criminal behavior.

drugs are required to prevent feelings of withdrawal. Addiction to painkillers frequently leads to heroin addiction because the black market drug is cheaper and easier to get than black market painkillers.

"Up to 80% of people who inject heroin report abusing prescription opioids before starting to use heroin."

- SANJAY GUPTA, CNN CHIEF MEDICAL CORRESPONDENT

Since 2001, overdoses from heroin and opioid painkillers combined have more than tripled.

The good news is that treatment options such as detox, residential treatment and medication-assisted treatment designed to fight opioid addiction are increasingly sophisticated and effective. For more information, visit CrossroadsNaples.org or call 239-354-1428.

ISSUES & ANSWERS

About the Heroin & Prescription Drug Epidemic

The U.S. currently faces an unprecedented epidemic of opioid addiction – painkillers, heroin and other drugs made from the same base chemical – that is dramatically impacting Collier County.

Heroin is an opioid drug that is synthesized from morphine, a naturally occurring substance extracted from the poppy plant. Prescription opioid pain medications such as Oxycontin and Vicodin have effects similar to heroin when taken in ways other than prescribed. They are currently among the most commonly abused drugs in the United States.

As much as 80% of people who inject heroin report abusing prescription opioids before starting to use heroin. They also report that crushing the pills to snort or inject the powder provided their initiation into these methods of drug administration.

Experts agree that the current spike of opioid abuse can be traced to the increased prescription rates for painkillers by well-meaning physicians. Prolonged use leads to dependence and, once hooked, increasing amounts of

CENTER NEWS

New and Improved DavidLawrenceCenter.org

After several months of research, planning and development, the new DLC website design made its debut with much anticipation.

Including vastly improved aesthetics, visuals and branding elements, many of the site changes were designed to make it more user friendly for visitors to understand how to access help. The How to Get Help section now includes insurance information, frequently asked questions and videos, client forms and a more thorough explanation of the admissions process. The Treatment Programs section is easier to navigate and explains in depth the types of programs for adults and children. All pages have contact forms making it easier to get the help you need and to inquire about services, events or volunteer opportunities. In addition to these vital resources, the site gives viewers the opportunity to read success stories, as well as view photo galleries that showcase our work, campus, volunteers and donors. Also part of the redesign was a completely new web presence for EncoreResale.org and ChildsPath.org. With a new and improved News and Events section accessible from the homepage, visitors can read our blog, newsletters, e-news articles, press releases and event listings.

DONOR PROFILE

Carlos Cabrera Rides for Mental Health

You might say Carlos Cabrera has a "passion for our cause." He so believes in the work being done by the David Lawrence Center that he took two days out of his life recently to cycle his way to Central Florida to raise money for us.

"We are so fortunate to have a facility like the David Lawrence Center doing such good work and offering so many services. I feel as a business community we have to do all we can to support it."

— CARLOS CABRERA

Cabrera is Senior Vice President of Global All Inclusive Operations for Hyatt Hotels. He is based in Bonita Springs. He decided to ride his bike to a national meeting Hyatt was conducting in Orlando after learning the theme would be about the purpose of his company.

Cabrera says, "I decided that a way I could bring purpose to life in my own personal way was to raise money for a local and caring organization that is dedicated to helping people be their best."

CARLOS CABRERA, SCOTT BURGESS, LYN CABRERA

He asked friends and clients to sponsor him on a per-mile basis for his two-day, 200 mile ride. As a result, he happily donated nearly $9,000 to DLC.

As for the cause, Cabrera believes we have a severe problem in society today with alcohol and drug abuse. He says that working in the hospitality industry, he sees evidence of this quite often. "The impact it is having on families, the workplace and society in general can be devastating."

FACT:

In fiscal year 2014-2015 David Lawrence Center provided 209,224 treatment services to children and adults. This represented a 26% increase over last fiscal year.

DESIGNATE YOUR ASSETS FOR HELPING OTHERS

If you are looking for an easy way to support David Lawrence Center, but can't part with assets today, consider designating us as the beneficiary of your retirement plan assets or insurance policies. When you support us through a beneficiary designation, you can have peace of mind knowing that your plans can be altered at any time.

Consider the following options:

RETIREMENT PLAN ASSETS

Retirement plan assets make a tax-wise gift to David Lawrence Center. If your children are the beneficiaries of your retirement plan assets, federal income taxes may erode up to 39.6 percent of the amount they receive from your plan. In contrast, as a nonprofit organization, we are tax-exempt and eligible to receive the full amount and bypass any federal taxes.

LIFE INSURANCE

Life insurance is a low-cost way to provide a large gift to a charity of your choice. You can name us as primary or contingent beneficiary. If you name us as contingent beneficiary, we will only benefit if your primary beneficiary predeceases you.

INSURANCE ANNUITIES

Insurance annuities carry an income tax burden, making your named beneficiary responsible for paying the income tax due on the growth of your annuity. The tax burden makes these assets a popular choice to leave to an organization like David Lawrence Center because we, as the recipient, can eliminate the tax bill on the portion we receive.

HOW TO NAME US AS BENEFICIARY

To name us as beneficiary of these assets, contact your retirement plan administrator or insurance company for a change-of-beneficiary form. Decide what percentage you would like us to receive, and name us, along with the percentage you chose, on the beneficiary form. Then return the form to your plan administrator or insurance company. It is that simple!

FOR MORE INFORMATION

Consulting an estate planning attorney is a smart investment that can save you and your family money and heartache in the long run. Please seek legal advice before deciding who will get what in your estate plan. Many Ways to Support DLC Mission Through the Encore Resale Shop

ROSEMARIE MODELEWSKI

Without the generosity and kindness of volunteers and donors, the Encore Resale Shop would not exist. Making a difference in the lives of those affected by mental illness and substance abuse can be as easy as cleaning out your closet, storage unit or garage.

Just ask Cyndy Nayer, one of Encore's newest donors. When she and her husband decided to downsize, they immediately thought of Encore. Mental health is near and dear to her heart. She said, "In addition to having friends and family with behavioral issues, throughout my career I worked with organizations to ensure that behavioral health is treated as equitably as other health conditions."

CYNDY NAYER

"I think it's wonderful that the furniture, art, and household goods we no longer needed can create a pleasant environment for members of our community, while helping those in need."

– CYNDY NAYER, ENCORE DONOR

Recently retired, Cyndy wanted to know more about how she could help and is also now serving on the committee for the Center's Sound Minds mental health symposium and fundraiser.

Another way to support Encore is by volunteering. Our newest volunteer, Rosemarie Modelewski, is planning to put her administrative experience to work in the store. Her daughter works at DLC so when she retired six months ago, it was a natural fit. Rosemarie shares, "I understand the need for these lifesaving services. I really enjoy volunteering at Encore because the people are wonderful."
